Including Report of State Game and Fish Commission

Gentlemen: I herewith submit to you statement of the South Carolina Game and Fish Department for the fiscal year July 1, 1934 to June 30, 1935, and respectfully report to you conditions throughout the State as I find them and a few recommendations which, in my opinion, will better the conditions of this department and also increase the game and fish of the State.

I have repeatedly called to your attention that as the march of progress increased so our wild life would decrease. People hunt and fish now who never did before, due to good roads and automobiles. Every new road provides access to new hunting and fishing territory, and every new automobile provides means of transportation into the homes of our wild friends. The man who has half a day or one day holiday can take a hunting or fishing trip that a few years ago it would have taken a week to make. It is time to tighten up—all of our open seasons are too long. With the increase of hunters our game cannot but decrease with these long open seasons. I recommend a shortening of all of our hunting seasons. Sportsmen's organizations and different periodicals are constantly comparing game conditions of Pennsylvania with those of South Carolina to the detriment of South Carolina, but there is a reason for the great comeback that Pennsylvania has made. In Pennsylvania the open season for shooting wild turkeys is one day and the season limit is one turkey. In South Carolina the open season for turkeys is 96 days and the season limit is 20 turkeys. In Pennsylvania the open season for quail is 16 days. In South Carolina it is 96 days. In Pennsylvania the season's bag limit for quail is 24; in South Carolina it is 1,440. In Pennsylvania the open season for deer is 15 days; in South Carolina it is 139 days. The season limit in Pennsylvania is one deer; in South Carolina it is 5, but, regardless of this greater protection that Pennsylvania is giving, I am of the opinion that we have more game of all kinds in South Carolina than they have in Pennsylvania, or practically any State anywhere near the same size of South Carolina as there is in the Union. I think I am borne out in this statement by reason of the fact that so many wealthy sportsmen from Pennsylvania and other States have seen fit to invest their money in game preserves in South Carolina rather than in their own states.

In 1913, 1914 and 1915 I advocated the passage of the hunting license law, stating at the time that without sufficient revenue and without control and identification of the hunters our game would become exhausted. In 1915 the hunting license law was passed. Year after year the revenue kept increasing so that in a few years and today the State Game Department is self-sustaining, needs no appropriation from the taxpayers and we have enough revenue to employ men to protect the wild life in every county of the State. These Game Wardens, though paid from the hunters' license money, give just as much of their time to protecting fish as they do to protecting game, though the fishermen contributes nothing to the protection of the fish.

For the past several years I have advocated a fishing license law and now advocate a reasonable fishing license, especially so as we have erected, or are now erecting, eight different fish hatcheries in different parts of the State—the cost and labor being furnished by the Government's WPA. We are getting these wonderful hatcheries at very little or practically no cost to the State but, after the Government has finished the erection, it will be up to the State, or the counties in which these hatcheries are located, to maintain them; therefore, it is necessary for a fishing license to raise revenue for this purpose. These hatcheries, when in operation, will stock every stream in South Carolina with the kind of fish adaptable to the particular stream.

You will note from the recommendations of the recently created Game and Fish Commission that they recommend a fishing license. A fishing license is also recommended by the South Carolina Fish and Game Association. The Bill that will be submitted to you will be of such a nature that the people fishing from the bank and fishing with the usual pole and line will not be required to have a license, but those who use high priced artificial tackle and a boat will be required to have a license. This class of people, fishing all over the State, are able to pay for a license and are perfectly willing to pay for it.

The closed season comparisons I have made relative to Pennsylvania and South Carolina give you an idea of the necessity of a proper closed season on game birds and animals, if you expect them to increase, or even hold their own. Why would not the same apply to fish? I always contended and now contend that there should be a closed season on all kinds of fishing during the breeding season of the fish. A Bill along this line will be introduced and I hope you will give it your earnest consideration.

Before submitting my financial report I call to your attention the report of the State Game and Fish Commission which immediately follows my financial report in this pamphlet. The Commission has had all of its meetings in my office and we have worked with perfect harmony and I am sure to the greater interest of South Carolina. I agree with the recommendations made by the Commission.

You will note in the Commission's report what they have to say about zoning the State. When these zones are made the law will be uniform for the whole zone but, in my opinion, this uniformity should only apply to the open and closed seasons on the different species of fish and game and not interfere with any of the present emergency laws that we now have whereby the Chief Game Warden or the County Delegations can close the season during an abnormal time. I feel sure that this can be worked out entirely satisfactorily to all parties concerned, if the bill is properly worded; however, felt that it would be well to call this matter to the attention of the General Assembly before the bill is submitted.

Before closing my remarks, I am glad to report that, from the information from all parts of the State, I find we have a better crop of all kinds of game, with the exception of ducks, than we have had in the past several years. I feel if we properly safeguard the supply of game we have on hand that South Carolina will always be blessed with a bountiful supply.

Very respectfully,

A. A. RICHARDSON,
Chief Game Warden.

STATE GAME AND FISH COMMISSION

To The General Assembly:

Pursuant to the requirement of the Act creating the South Carolina State Game and Fish Commission I am submitting herewith, as part of the report of the Chief Game Warden, a report of the activities of this commission since its creation by an Act of the 1935 Legislature.

The State Game and Fish Commission has held four meetings in Columbia since July 10th last year, and has, in accordance with the Act creating it continuously investigated and studied game and fish conditions within the State, as well as laws and regulations governing the protection and rehabilitation of our valuable wildlife resources. Through and with the cooperation and assistance of the Chief Game Warden and his force of County Game Wardens our Commission has made a study of game and fish resources of the State with the end in view of making such recommendations, as in the opinion of the Commission, would tend to further protect and build up this supply, and at the same time furnish ample sport to the citizens of our State.

Physical conditions, such as climate, altitude and food and cover vary greatly in the various sections of the State, and the Piedmont section has entirely different problems as to game and fish management from that of the Coastal section. Likewise the Pee Dee section differs greatly from that of the Central Piedmont and Coastal sections. Therefore, the Commission has been forced to the conclusion that regulations for the entire State cannot possibly be suitable for every section, and that the sane and sensible solution of the situation is the division of the State into game and fish zones as authorized by a constitutional amendment passed in the last General Election, and ratified by the 1935 Legislature.

Therefore the Commission has prepared, and will have introduced, a bill dividing the State into game and fish zones. The proposed zones contained in this bill are merely suggestions, but are, as outlined, believed to be the most logical division possible. This bill does not attempt to create zones of uniform size as to number of counties contained, but rather a division of the State into zones having, as near as possible, similar game and fish conditions and equal supplies of such game and fish. We believe that the creation of such zones will be a material step towards the improvement of existing conditions. Therefore the Commission earnestly recommends your careful consideration of this bill.

In addition thereto we have prepared, and will have introduced a bill, setting the maximum open seasons on game birds and animals native to this State. Under the terms of this bill such open seasons shall apply to the entire State, but with the further provision that a majority of the county delegations within any one zone, upon petition to the Chief Game Warden can so shorten any or all of such seasons, as in their judgment, is deemed best for their particular zone. However, we recommend that all seasons within a given zone be uniform. Under this plan the control of game and fish affairs are more localized in an area having similar conditions and supply of game and fish, and can be made to better meet the wishes of the thousands of hunters and fishermen residing within each zone, and yet, at the same time furnish better protection to the wildlife of the State. We earnestly ask your serious consideration of this bill.

The State Game and Fish Commission, after very careful thought and investigation also recommends some form of fishing license, and have prepared and will introduce a bill to this end. Sport fishing in South Carolina furnishes recreation to hundreds of thousands of our citizens, and if this sport is to be maintained, it is necessary to have additional funds for this purpose. The Federal Government has spent large sums in this State in the building of fish hatcheries, and if this investment is not to be wasted it is necessary that the State continue this work and carry it forward by building rearing pools, and a systematic system of fish distribution and protection. We feel that any thinking fisherman in the State will be more than willing to pay a small license fee to be used for the purpose of protecting and increasing the sport he loves so well. Under the terms of this bill the Commission has attempted to exempt those citizens on whom even a very small fishing license would be a penalty and a burden. we sincerely recommend the passage of this bill.

The only other legislation the Commission is suggesting this year is a slight change in the method of appointment of Game Wardens, which we feel will be to the best interest of all parties concerned. Any successful effort to protect and rehabilitate the State's supply of game and fish is to a large extent dependent on the Game Warden force, and it is to the interest of everyone to see that this force is second to none in the United States. We have prepared and will have introduced a bill to this end.

South Carolina is perhaps more blessed with conditions suitable to game and fish than any other state in the Union. This Commission feels its responsibility very keenly, and is striving to gradually make recommendations to your body, which will, in the opinion of the Commission, make South Carolina the finest hunting and fishing territory in the world. As a Commission we can only study and investigate conditions, and report to you the result of our findings, together with our recommendations. The adoption of these recommendations we feel can be safely left to your good judgment, with the assurance of the Commission and its individual members that all recommendations and suggestions are made in the best interest of the hunters and fishermen, as well as the welfare of the game and fish supply of the State.

Respectfully submitted,

A. C. HEYWARD, Chairman
S. C. State Game and Fish Commission.
